

To Whom It May Concern:

Adam Prskavec has been employed at Georgia Military College Food Service for the past year and a half. He has been a pleasure to work with, bringing his willing attitude and ambitious work ethic to the job. He has been the person I called on for difficult catering assignments because of his attention to detail and ability to anticipate upcoming requirements. When given a task I have been confident that it would be completed 100% without oversight if assigned to Adam.

I can highly recommend Adam for any opportunity that you may have available. He has the desire to not only complete the task assigned him but he also takes pride in making sure the job is mastered. Having him as a willing and eager employee has been a joy.

Adam would add value to any company, and I recommend him for any endeavor he chooses to pursue. Please let me know if you have any other questions.
